breathe a sigh of relief when the door closes after the victim.

Love itself wavers and disgust forbids the kiss. And out of regard for the afflicted one, little mention of his pollution is ever made to his face, and he must rely on his own misery and such plain talk as is contained in this page to reach him and to help him. A way to stop this pestilence is within the reach of every one. It was not always so. Catarrh has raged fiercely through the years like a firebrand, and in the eagerness to quench it, many useless things were given out as cures, but it remnins now after the slow process of externination and discovery, to fer the positive, real and effective treatment, which has been born of ceaseleless searching and common sense.

I get boiling mad when people tell me I've got catarris. I've had dozens of mere acquaintances, and especially one young lady, who have come up and ven-tured to tell me something "for my own oenerit." That expression begins to pall on me "for my own benefit. It seems they all want to tell me the same thing - "You ought to take something for your catarrh. I'll tell you how my cousin got cured, and every doctor used to say he had the worst case he ever leard about."

There is no part of the land which is free from catarrh. Alti-tudes and latitudes have little effect todes and latitudes have little effect in destroying the omnipresent germ. Many imagine that the climate of the West, with its high altitudes and dry atmosphere, tends to prevent catarrh. There are just as many cases, in proportion to the population, west as east of the Mississippi, only the discase is not so severe because of the climatic effect upon the nerves.

We can point to hundreds of cases of catern that have dragged their blear-eyed, nose-dripping, half-dead victims through fifteen and twenty reclaimed to health and happiness in short order some of the world's best women and bravest men, who now dodder about in blank, diseased old age, or fill some cold graves—food for thought. What An Awful Breath!

In the Coils

from Childhood I have suffered with catarrh since I was 4 years old, but it has annoyed me more in the last two years.

I tried everything I read or heard of, but they did me no good, and I saw your advertisement in a paper and I wrote to you and received a sample packake. I was impressed so favorably with the sample that I immediately sent for the full treatment.

I suffered much with the dropping back into my throat and after I had taken the medicine for three or four weeks this nasty sensation entirely cassed, and I have never had any return of it. I am now fully cared of my catarrh, and am very grateful to you and your medicine.

I will be very glad to tell any one whom I think needs it and if you wish to use my name you may do so, as I am you exceed, that I wish enversade.
